DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 22, 2009 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 29-32, 35, 37, 39-42, 45 and 47-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Baba 6,049,743.

Baba teaches a computer aided design system comprising a computer 1, a display devise 7a that is directed by the computer to display an image of a dental restoration body, the dental restoration body including a plurality of dentally specific indicia(ml, 14, 12, 11), an input device 8a that enables the user to input a command to the computer to select a portion of the image to be modified, the selected portion being defined by at least one of the plurality of dentally specific indicia and at least one design tool that enables the user to modify the selected portion in any of a plurality of directions (col. 4, ll. 44-50, col. 7, ll. 23-25). Baba further teaches wherein the plurality of dentally specific indicia comprises a plurality of dentally specific lines ml, 14, 12 and dentally specific points 11 (fig. 4b), wherein the dental restoration body further includes a preparation border ml and wherein the plurality of dentally specific indicia includes a marginal crest 14, a cusp 11 and a fissure 12. Regarding claim 48, Baba teaches a means for displaying an image 7a, a means for selecting a portion of the image 8a and a means for modifying the selected portion (col. 4, ll. 44-50).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 33-34, 36, 43-44 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baba 6,049,743.

Baba teaches the invention as substantially claimed and as discussed above, however, does not specifically teach the selection is made by selecting at least one of the plurality of dentally specific indicia, by selecting a region between at least two of the plurality of dentally specific indicia and by selecting a region between the preparation border and at least one of the plurality of dentally specific indicia, however, Baba teaches deforming the crown so the model forms a desired gap with respect to the adjacent teeth and gum, therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to select any area on the crown the needs to be deformed in order to achieve the desired shape as preferred by the user.

Claim 38 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baba 6,049,743 as applied to claim 29 above, and further in view of Diller 2002/0110786.

Baba teaches the invention as substantially claimed and as discussed above, however, does not specifically teach the computer directs the display device to display a plurality of symbols, each of the plurality of symbols representing a design tool. Diller teaches the computer directs the display device to display a plurality of symbols, each of the plurality of symbols representing a design tool (par. 114, figs. 24-25). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in the time of the invention to modify Baba with the design tool display taught by Diller in order for the user to easily modify the shape of the restoration as needed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed June 22, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the auxiliary lines 18 taught by Baba are not dentally specific indicia, however, Baba does show dental specific indicia including both points 11 and lines ml, 12 and 14 as discussed above. Applicant further argues that the deformation is not defined by the dentally specific indicia, but instead by the patches A(n), however, several of the patches A(n) are located between the dentally specific indicia as discussed above and some include the dentally specific indicia, therefore meeting the claimed limitation.
